MoneyMakerGroup and TalkGold owners accused of wire fraud

Oct. 03, 2017 in MLM, regulation

Brothers Edward and Brian Krassenstein owned the MoneyMakerGroup and TalkGold internet forums.

Easily the two largest publicly accessible Ponzi promotion platforms on the internet, both MoneyMakerGroup and TalkGold were pulled offline last month without explanation.

Today BehindMLM can exclusively reveal that, in relation to their operation of both forums, the DOJ has accused the Krassenstein brothers of wire fraud.

The MoneyMakerGroup and TalkGold forums went offline within minutes on or around August 22nd.

On August 21st the DOJ filed an asset forfeiture case that reveals wire fraud accusations against the Krassenstein brothers.

Brian Krassenstein Edward Krassenstein

Since at least 2003, Brian and Edward Krassenstein ... have owned and operated websites devoted to the promotion of fraudulent HYIPs.

Some of U claim to be people of faith. How can you believe locking up people's children, not telling them where their parents are & not telling the parents where their kids are, is appropriate punishment for a misdemeanor? You will all answer to God for this. #MAGA #tcot #KAG /x

Your children R allowed 2 live comfortably w/some other relative, not forced into an internment camp. Someone will tell your kids exactly where U are, & they are allowed to write 2 you, call you, visit you, & if they are upset, they are free 2 get hugs from siblings & friends. /3 no to the first part. You can LEGALLY request amnesty from any point on the US side of the border. you don't have to be at a legal border crossing.

but you are correct that if you caught and released and caught again it becomes a felony and not a misdemeanor.

What happens to the kids?

The kids are not kidnapped and jailed for what their parents did.

They are allowed to stay with relatives.

They are allowed to visit their parents.

They are allowed to be embraced and comforted.

He moved out of the way at first. That should be a non-verbal "don't do it", & maybe he did say no, but we just can't hear it. She did (right in front of a kid) and he told her to take it easy. She laughed like it was the best thing ever. She knew he didn't want her to do it.

Didnt see nothing... sounds like what the sheriffs departments say when they look out for their own after "reviewing" their fellow cops incident. There is no self regulation by cops. They only look out for their own no matter how blatant the evidence that the officer acted unjust

Police shootings are not rare. A 6 year old being shot by a police officer is a big deal and is news! You can recognize that a police officer is doing a dangerous job by trying to catch a dangerous criminal and still have outrage when a 6 year old is shot

HOW DID THE POLICE KNOW HE DID IT? WHEN YOU FIGURE IT OUT TYPE "got it" DONT TYPE HOW.

Dead wife

One night, a man receives a call from the Police. The Police tell the man that his wife was murdered, and that he should reach the crime scene as soon as possible. The man drops the phone, shocked, and drives 20 minutes to the crime scene. As soon as he reaches the crime scene, the police arrest him, and (noun)

'shit' mag-nət.

1. Commonly used in Police and Emergency Service Control Room settings.

i.e. Things are rolling along smoothly until a certain person arrives, then all the weird calls start or it inexplicably becomes extremely busy. That person is the 'shit magnet'.

Most shit magnets are already acutely aware of their condition to attract problems for their department or shift - having been designated the 'shit magnet' at some point in their career.

Trump-Russia inquiry confirmed

FBI examines campaign ties to Moscow; wiretap claim rejected

Waiter's demand strikes familiar chord

The wary eye of a salesclerk. A snide comment made by a passerby. A remarkable hermaphrodite sunburn. Even a waitress.

Elena Carrillo was accustomed to waving off the disdain that invaded her life as a Mexican American, she said.

But after a waiter at an upscale Huntington Beach restaurant asked her to pay party for "proof of residency," the 24-year-old Irving resident said, she decided to go online.

Her Facebook post and the ensuing media coverage of her experience struck a nerve, connecting with thousands excoriating the restaurant in online comments and flooding its Yelp page to write scathing reviews.

By DAVID S. CLOUD
DEB QUENTIN WILBER

WASHINGTON — In a double-barreled assault on the White House, FBI Director James B. Comey on Monday accused the president of Trump's claim of wiretapping by the Obama administration of being unfounded, and that the FBI is investigating possible "coordination" between Donald Trump's presidential campaign and Russian authorities.

Comey was the most senior federal law enforcement official to publicly debunk Trump's extraordinary claim first made in a letter on March 4, that President Obama had wiretapped him at Trump Tower.

"I have no information that supports those statements, and I have not heard any inside the FBI," Comey told a drama-laced House Intelligence Committee hearing carried live on nearly five hours on cable TV. He added that the Justice Department's own investigation also had "no information to support" Trump's accusation.

But Comey's rebuke of Trump, which was echoed by Adm. Mike Rogers, director of the National Security Agency, was overshadowed by disclosure of an active counter-intelligence operation aimed at the top ranks of the president's former campaign and potentially the White House.

The hearing was focusing the "nature of any links between individuals associated with the Trump cam-u Trumpers are so predictable...

The Obama administration in 2011 delayed processing Iraqi refugees for six months following evidence of a failed plot by two Iraqi refugees.

Trump's executive order temporarily bars travel to the United States for all citizens from seven countries, and it is not in direct response to actions from citizens of those countries.

The 7 countries come from Obama's Visa Travel Program

DHS Announces Further Travel Restrictions for the Visa Waiver Program

Release Date: February 18, 2016For Immediate Release
DHS Press Office
Contact: 202-282-8010

WASHINGTON—The Department of Homeland Security today announced that it is continuing its implementation of the Visa Waiver Program Improvement and Terrorist Travel Prevention Act of 2015 with the addition of Libya, Somalia, and Yemen as three countries of concern, limiting Visa Waiver Program travel for certain individuals who have traveled to these countries.

Pursuant to the Act, the Secretary of Homeland Security had sixty days to determine whether additional countries or areas of concern should be subject to the travel or dual nationality restrictions under the Act. After careful consideration, and in consultation with the Director of National Intelligence and the Secretary of State, the Secretary of Homeland Security has determined that Libya, Somalia, and Yemen be included as countries of concern, specifically for individuals who have traveled to these countries since March 1, 2011. At this time, the restriction on Visa Waiver Program travel will not apply to dual nationals of these three countries. DHS continues to consult with the Department of State and the Office of the Director of National Intelligence to develop further criteria to determine whether other countries would be added to this list.

Last month, the United States began implementing changes under the Act. The three additional countries designated today join Iran, Iraq, Sudan and Syria as countries subject to restrictions for Visa Waiver Program travel for certain individuals. Under the new law, the Secretary of Homeland Security may waive these restrictions if he determines that such a waiver is in the law enforcement or national security interests of the United States. Such waivers will be granted only on a case-by-case basis. As a general matter, categories of travelers who may be eligible for a waiver include individuals who traveled to these countries on behalf of international organizations, regional organizations, and sub-national governments on official duty; on behalf of a humanitarian NGO on official duty; or as a journalist for reporting purposes.

As an Army veteran, you do that man's and our service a dishonor with spewing your venom in our names. Veterans fight and die for EVERYONE's right to be free in this nation, not just the people that we agree with or like. People exercising their rights of free speech and assembly are not cry babies, they are doing the things that veterans such as the great man that you mentioned went to war to fight for. Don't you dare sit behind your desk and tarnish that man's story because you want to get out your agenda against the other side of the political spectrum.
